

THE GALEN TIMES

"If people are doubting how far you can go, go so far that you can't hear them anymore" -Michele Ruiz

It's Midterm!

As we approach the middle of the semester (week 8), Galen would like to wish all Eagles good luck on exams, papers, and presentations. We must remember that each day is a step closer to our dreams. Sometimes the journey seems never-ending and our efforts not enough, but we are closer to our goals than we were yesterday. Now is the time to seize the semester with hard work and dedication. "If not you, then who?" is the question that should linger within our minds. Don't be afraid to ask for help for anything that you maybe unsure of. Our professors and tutors are here to guide us and see us thrive in every way possible. Therefore, take advantage of office hours, ask your questions and get the answers you look for.

International Women's Month

Annually, International Women's Month is celebrated throughout the month of March to honor and commemorate the vital role of women. In addition, it designs a platform to contribute to women's equality by highlighting and encouraging the efforts thus far. This year, we are not able to physically interact; therefore, we can celebrate virtually by joining Galen's discussion panel. In addition, fellow female Galen Eagles will be featured throughout the week to showcase their contribution to their community. To be featured, apply by filling out the 'Weekly Features' form sent to your email by Miss Monica Manzur. This is a great opportunity to encourage change in our community by inspiring others. Overall, the contributions of women and the rights they have should not only be celebrated throughout one month or by one gender. We, as a society, should continue prevailing into a more open-minded and accepting mindset that celebrate women and respect women in every way. However, we must not forget our men as they also play a huge role in society. We must love all, as we are all family.

*"Feminism isn't about making women stronger. Women are already strong. It's about changing the way the world perceives that strength."
-G.D. Anderson*
